

"OCTOPUS" HUNTING COVER

Standard Oil Attorneys Bitterly Fought Introduction of Rockefeller's Evidence.

TRUST'S OPERATIONS SHOWN BY TESTIMONY

Young Woman Who Has Been the Nemesis of the Standard Oil for Many Years Told of Its Tactics.

FINDLAY, O., Oct. 10.—Much legal argument and little actual progress marked the second day of the trial of the Standard Oil company of Ohio for conspiracy against trade. The argument was caused by the objection of the attorneys for the Standard as to the character of evidence sought to be placed before the jury by the prosecution. In every instance, however, the ruling of Judge Barker favored the prosecution.

The result was that the evidence of John D. Rockefeller, given in 1898 in the litigation against the Standard Oil trust before the Supreme court of the state, was admitted and carefully referred to by the jury by Attorney Phelps for the prosecution. This continued the morning session and part of the afternoon.

Rockefeller's Nemesis.
Mrs. Ida M. Butts, the first witness of the trial, was called to the stand. Mrs. Butts said she was the stepdaughter of the late George M. Rice, an independent oil refiner of Marietta, Ohio. She had also acted as Rice's private secretary and was the executrix of his estate. She produced, at the request of Attorney Phelps, the certificates of original trust stock owned by Rice, the certificates of "legal title," into which these were later transferred, and scrip showing title to fractional shares of stock in all of the twenty subsidiary companies of the original trust.

Fighting Against Evidence.
The final wrangle of the day then began and lasted until the close of the day. It began when Perkins asked for a certified copy of the certificate issued in New Jersey showing that in 1903 the Standard Oil company of that state changed its corporate existence by increasing the number of its directors from three to nine. It was argued by the defense that this certificate was unauthenticated and incomplete.

Judge Barker reserved his ruling on this point until tomorrow.

The objection of the defense to the character of evidence brought forward was, mainly on the ground that the prosecution was going entirely outside of the case. Besides this, the authenticity of the evidence in all cases was questioned.

To Enlighten the Jury.
In admitting the evidence which illuminated the method of the Standard in 1898, Judge Barker said it was simply to enlighten the jury as to conditions prior to the period covered in the present suit and not to prove any act during the past three years covered by the suit.

Before the jury was brought into court today attorneys for the prosecution and defense held a preliminary argument touching the competency of admitting the testimony of Mr. Rockefeller given in the previous trial.

"A corporation has no face except a false face; it is a mantle that covers the individuals in it, so that the head of the company when he speaks for the corporation itself," Phelps declared.

Afraid of Admissions.
Kline objected that the president of no corporation could by his utterances bind the corporation.

Judge Barker interrupted to remark that the evidence was only offered to show the manner of doing business at that time, which, of course, would not convict the defendants within the time of the present charge but simply to show that such a trust was formed.

"It is no excuse for evidence that will do no harm," replied Kline.

"Would not the admission of the president of the corporation be conclusive as to the manner of its doing business?" queried Judge Barker.

Kline: "No, sir, not at all."

Judge Barker further stated that evidence was not offered to show either the guilt or innocence of the defendant.

Tolls, for the defense, replied to this that it was not for that purpose it was surely incompetent evidence. Tolls maintained that the state by law was absolutely barred from taking a deposition in a criminal case, hence it was a travesty to endeavor to admit as evidence the deposition taken in another case.

Attorney General's View.
Attorney General Ellis said he could not do his duty to the state if he did not give his judgment in the case.

"I am in my opinion this evidence is admissible," he said. He further maintained that in giving the testimony for the corporation, and that if he could not and did not act there should be no way whatever of proving any act of a corporation.

Judge Barker admitted the testimony as competent. His ruling came at the conclusion of an argument of an hour and a half.

"If the answers of Mr. Rockefeller," he said, "tended to prove any act within the three years covered by this suit the objections might be valid, but it is simply desired to show the acts of the corporation prior to that time."

SUICIDE FOLLOWED DYNAMITE OUTRAGE

Lawyer's House Was Blown Up By Butcher, Who Afterwards Killed Himself.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 10.—A special to the Oregonian from Clatskanie, Wash., says an attempt to assassinate Judge Moses Yoder, a well known attorney, by blowing his house up with dynamite, was made about midnight last night. The dynamite tore a hole about eight feet long and three feet wide in the floor alongside the bedstead where the judge and his wife were sleeping and the couple were thrown onto the floor by the shock. Although painfully bruised, neither received any serious injury.

The outrage was the outcome of a divorce which Judge Yoder recently obtained for the wife of a butcher, John Spitzer, known here as "Holeman Yoder." The lawyer received several threatening letters during the trial, but no attention was paid to them.

CHEHALIS, Wash., Oct. 10.—The body of John Spitzer, the sausage-maker, was found today in the woods near town. He had shot himself soon after his attempt to kill Judge Moses Yoder and family and undoubtedly died in the belief that he had killed the lawyer, who assisted Spitzer's wife in securing a divorce from him.

BORAX SMITH'S ROAD WILL HANDLE TRAFFIC WITHIN A FEW DAYS

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 10.—The Tonopah and Tidewater railroad, which is being constructed from Ludlow on the Santa Fe railway, north through San Bernardino and Inyo counties to Beatty and Bullfrog, Nevada, announces that it will commence the handling of freight and passenger business to the present terminus of the line October 15th. This is the line known as the "Borax Smith road," which is being built by F. M. Smith of Oakland. The road runs Smith's borax mines and makes tributary to Los Angeles an extensive mineral territory of Nevada.

FINAL TEST OF OUR BOAT

Cruiser California's Four Hour Endurance Today.

She Has Done Splendidly So Far and Is Expected to Stand Test.

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 10.—Tomorrow the cruiser California probably will be sent on her four-hour endurance run, which is really the principal test of the trial series. The standardizing trials Tuesday demonstrated that the California is the speediest ship of her class, and it now remains to be seen whether she can maintain the required speed for four consecutive hours.

The vessel reeled off the knots so easily during the runs over the measured mile course, however, that neither her builders nor the navy men have any doubt of her ability to meet the final endurance test.

The standardizing trials determined the number of revolutions of her engines necessary to send the ship along at the rate of twenty-two knots, eliminating tide and currents. The California will not have to actually maintain a speed of twenty-two knots during the four-hour test, but her engines must turn over at the required number of revolutions. This method eliminates wind and tide allowances, which are very difficult to compute on the long course.

The remarkable performance of the California during her runs over the measured mile are the subject of much favorable comment among navy men here, and the builders' representatives say the vessel has lived up to their highest expectations. For the five high-speed runs over the course, the new cruiser averaged over half a knot more than the required speed, the fastest run being at the rate of nearly twenty-three knots an hour.

Today the California remained at anchor, her firemen resting up from the tremendous exertions of yesterday and preparing for the strain of tomorrow's run. The engine were given their final tuning up and overhauling, and unless something unforeseen happens the cruiser will start on her final test at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Cosco Bay Steamers Bought.
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—The Southern Pacific has purchased the San Francisco and Cosco Bay Steamship company and will operate the line in connection with the new road now building from Dublin to Cosco Bay and with the Cosco Bay Roseburg and Fortuna. The line includes two steamers which have been plying between this city and Cosco Bay, the break-water and Czarina.

TAFT WILL SOON BE HOME

Magoon Will Be in Charge of Cuban Affairs With General Bell at Head of Army.

GENERAL FUNSTON WAS NOT WELL LIKED

Rebel Leaders Flock to Havana in the Hope of Securing Positions Under the Provisional Government.

HAVANA, Oct. 10.—General Frederick Funston will not continue in command of the American forces in Cuba. Governor Taft announced tonight that he and General Funston will leave Havana for the United States on Saturday. With them will go Assistant Secretary of State Bacon and the affairs of Cuba will be left in the hands of Governor Magoon and General J. Frank Dyer.

Explaining the change of plans, Governor Taft said: "General Funston was summoned on a hurry call from the Pacific coast because he was well acquainted with many of the insurgent chiefs here, and it was thought that he could aid us as he did, greatly, in bringing the men with arms in. He was put temporarily in command of the troops in Cuba, merely until General Bell could arrive. General Funston, Assistant Secretary Bacon and I are returning to our permanent duties."

Governor Taft's special confidence in the chief of the general staff's ability to carry out the program the governor has initiated resulted in the decision to continue him in the island.

Opposition to Funston.
Many Cubans of the faction to which Mendez Capote and others of the Moderate party belong, were outspoken against General Funston, alleging that he had deserted them in 1901 to throw off the yoke of Spain. Governor Taft did not take cognizance of this bitterness, as he was familiar with the circumstances under which General Funston at that time returned to the United States. Funston was taken ill and he had the consent to return of General Garcia and other leaders who appreciated the long service he had given their cause.

Bell Is Taft's Choice.
Had the proposal to send the three expeditions to Cuba been carried out, General Funston would have remained at Camp Columbia as the commander of a brigade. The close association between Governor Taft and General Bell in the Philippines derived the provisional governor to make a request on President Roosevelt that General Bell be placed in charge of Cuba.

Will Visit Key West.
The party sailing on the Louisiana will touch at Key West, where Secretary Taft desires to stop in connection with a right of way across the military reservation for the railroad which is being constructed across the Florida keys. Certain senators are anxious that Secretary Taft should facilitate this work by disposing of the government's interests and the secretary now sees the importance of the work, which will practically connect the United States and Cuba by a ferry service.

An Unwise Official.
Twenty-five marines have been ordered to proceed to Sancti Spiritus and Trinidad. At the latter place they will settle the friction between exiles and ex-militiamen who have recently been disbanded. The trouble appears to have been caused by Colonel Glynn of the militia, who is also collector of customs. One surrendered arms were stored in the custom house, and were given to the militia after the departure of the disarmament commissioners.

Colonel Glynn is reported to still have the guns in his possession and to be disposed to make trouble. If these reports are confirmed, Governor Taft will remove Colonel Glynn.

Two cases of yellow fever at Cruces, in addition to the recent death from yellow fever, has decided Governor Taft not to send his marines back to Cruces camp.

Yesterday a Holiday.
This being the thirty-eighth anniversary of the beginning of the ten years' war for independence, the day was observed as a national holiday. The public offices with the exception of the police were closed, a large number of stores and other buildings were decorated with Cuban flags. The usual parade of troops was dispensed with. The celebration was not marked by any great enthusiasm.

Rebels Want Position.
Several leaders of the revolution arrived here today from various parts of the island for the purpose, it is said, of attending a meeting at the home of General Bell. They would not discuss the subject of their gathering, but it is said that the rebels intend to make urgent requests to Secretary Taft for official positions under the provisional government. It is considered significant that the rebels who served under General Castillo have been instructed not to sell their horses and it is feared that Castillo has a wild idea of enforcing his demand for a position under the provisional government.

Governor Taft announced today that the provisional government's policy would be the removal of the detachments of rural guards from any points at which signs of ill feeling developed. The difficulties at Cienfuegos have been settled.

POLICE CAPTAIN DUKE IS GIVEN PROMOTION

He Succeeds to the Position of Head of Detective Bureau in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—Captain of Police Thomas T. Duke, of the Central police station, was today appointed captain of detectives and placed in charge of the detective bureau of the police department.

The appointment was made to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Captain of Detectives Joseph W. Burnett. Lieutenant Michael Joseph Conboy, of the Southern police station, it is said, will be promoted to captain and placed in command of the Central station.

SYMPATHY WAS ILL TIMED

British Delegation Which Was to Wait Upon Russian Lead or Will Not Do So Now.

RUSSIAN ENTANTE WOULD BE ENDANGERED

Intended Expression of Good Will for the Outlawed Parliament Might Have Led to a Very Awkward Position.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—The approaching visit of a British delegation to St. Petersburg for the purpose of presenting an address of sympathy to Premier Sergei Mouravieff, of Moscow, who was president of the lower house of the late parliament, is arousing a storm of indignation and protest, both here and in St. Petersburg and strong influences are being brought to bear to induce the delegation to abandon its visit on the ground that the presentation of the memorial of sympathy with the late parliament would be an unwarranted act of interference, calculated to lead to violence.

The delegation includes half a dozen members of the House of Commons and social reformers and it has plans to take an address signed by 300 persons, including members of the House of Commons and numerous representatives of the clergy and persons prominent in literature.

Although the British government does not give the slightest countenance to the movement, yet official St. Petersburg recalls Premier Mouravieff's tribute to the late parliament and construes the movement as representing British official and public opinion.

Many of the influential signers of the address are hastily withdrawing their names and urging the abandonment of the proposed visit.

LATER.—The committee in charge of the arrangements for the visit met and decided to abandon the visit to Moscow and to wait further advice from the Anglo-Russian friendship committee in St. Petersburg, which will be received tomorrow and then considered.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 10.—What is described here tonight as the "immense fiasco" of the much heralded visit of a British delegation to present a memorial of sympathy to the dissolved parliament, is another blow to the constitutional Democrats, who were arranging a reception to the delegation, as a brilliant send-off in the campaign.

This proposed visit was solemnly disavowed by the British ambassador, Sir Arthur Nicholson, in view of the negotiations for an entente between Russia and Great Britain. Premier Mouravieff was brought to bear in London to stop the movement and it was decided not to receive the delegation officially at the embassy here. This decision is thought to have inspired the interview given by the British consul at Moscow, who declared that the members of the delegation were not known and that the proposed visit was in bad taste.

NEGROES ARE RETALIATORY

Efforts to Degrade Them Will Be Fought.

Southern Colored Leaders Call Attention to Jim Crow Cars on Railroads.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—"Such men as John T. Morgan, John Temple Graves, Var. Chapman and Tillman ought not to be able to obtain any service from a colored man," said Oswald G. Villard, in an address before the Afro-American council now in session here. Villard also declared that, in his opinion, no negro should think of contributing as much as one cent to the support of anti-negro newspapers in Georgia. He urged the negroes to organize and to band together for defense and to fight for their rights.

"The time is ripe for serving notice on the country," he said, "that further efforts to degrade the negro to a servile position shall be fought from now on. Leave the numbering in cold blood to the ones that proudly call itself the 'superior, the better civilized.'"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Representative Rogers of the South, on behalf of their race, have complained to the Interstate Commerce commission of the use by the railroads of the South of "Jim Crow" cars for interstate passengers and have requested the commission to investigate the subject and on the development of the facts to issue an order compelling the railroads not to discriminate against negroes on account of their color.

The reported results have been communicated to each of the bureaus of departments by Captain Rogers, chief of the intelligence bureau. These reports are favorable and may have an influence upon the plans which are being made for a big battleship of equal size to be constructed by the United States.

SCHOOLHOUSE LOVE MURDER

Teacher Killed By Rejected Admirer.

Slayer Escaped Capture By Blowing Out His Brains With Same Gun.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 10.—In the presence of sixty pupils in the South Euclid school, twenty Smith, 25 years old, shot to death Miss Mary Shepard, a teacher, 22 years old, this afternoon. Cornered by him in the rear of his home in Warrensville, two hours later, Smith shot himself through the head, dying instantly. Three Cleveland policemen with drawn revolvers and under cover of eight armed farmers, were about to rush on young Smith when he ended his life.

Unrequited Affection.
Disappointment in love is said to have been the motive for the cold blooded murder. Smith, who was a fourth cousin of Miss Shepard, had loved her for some time, and recently was rejected. He brooded over the unhappy ending of his courtship, and this afternoon, after quitting his position, bought a revolver and went to the South Euclid school. Miss Shepard responded to his knock at the door. He talked to her in the hall. Suddenly he whipped out his revolver, shot it against her head and fired twice in rapid succession, both bullets passing through her brain. Her scream aroused the pupils, who rushed out of the building screaming.

Confessed the Crime.
Smith brandished a loaded and pointed a gun at the teacher, the news of the crime spread quickly and in less than half an hour an armed posse formed and was in full pursuit. The identity of the murderer was soon established. Chief of Police Kohler was notified and he sent four policemen to Smith's home in Warrensville, a short distance from the school. On the suspicion that Smith confessed to the murder that he had killed Miss Shepard, and remarked that "they will have to kill me to get me."

Last Act of Tragedy.
Reaching his home, but a few minutes before the arrival of the posse and police, Smith told his father of the crime. When his father came in sight, the young man became highly nervous and ran from the house to the rear of the house. A loaded double barreled shotgun was lying inside the house, but was passed to Smith, who evidently had determined not to put up a fight, but to end his life as soon as he was surrounded. When the posse got within a few feet of him, edging on him to surrender, as the officers advanced, he placed the revolver against his head and blew out his brains.

ENGLAND'S NEW WAR SHIPS

Three Armored Cruisers in Course of Construction Are in Reality Battleships.

SPEED AND POWER BEATING THE WORLD

New Arrangement of Guns Will Give Them Heavy Head or Stern Fire and Beam Fire.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—The Daily Telegraph today says that three armored cruisers now under construction, the Indefatigable and Indomitable on the Clyde, and the Invincible at Elswick, about which much secrecy has been maintained by the admiralty, are in reality battleships of as heavy broadside fire as the Dreadnaught, but very much faster.

These vessels will, in fact, be the most wonderful ships ever built for any navy, in that they will have greater offensive power than any two battleships now in commission in any fleet in the world, combined with extraordinary speed, far in excess of anything hitherto attained.

Following are the dimensions of these vessels: Displacement 17,250 tons, length 330 feet, breadth 78½ feet, mean draught 26 feet, weight of the hull, including armament and belt, 11,100 tons.

Each vessel will carry eight new 12-inch guns. Although these vessels have each two guns less than the Dreadnaught, the daily Telegraph continues: "They will have power in broadside fire, due to a new arrangement of the guns, far in excess of any of the old ones, with a training arc enabling them to be used on either side, and four more in two barbettes placed in the center of the ship so as to bear on either beam, ahead or astern. They thus will have six guns for fire ahead or astern, and they will be able to bring to bear entire armament of eight guns to bear to either port or starboard."

Consequently, the fire of these vessels in chasing will be as heavy as the head or stern fire of any of the foreign battleships, while on the beam it will equal that of any two other battleships.

These vessels are designed for a speed of twenty-five knots and may attain twenty-seven knots on trials. They will be propelled by turbine engines. The construction of the hull is on the same principles as adopted in the Dreadnaught, but they are less heavily armored.

LEVIED ON HIS TENANT

And Now Must Face Burglary Charge.

Settled Disputed Rent Bill By Entering Room and Taking Cooking Utensils.

A split between landlord and tenant over the disputed amount of a debt led yesterday to a charge of burglary against C. W. Brown, the proprietor of a lodging house at 625 K street. The complainant is W. P. Harrell, who swore to a complaint in Judge Briggs' office yesterday.

The matter seems to be more in the light of a civil affair, although Brown is in a technical sense, guilty of burglary. But several attorneys state that no conviction could ever be secured under the circumstances. After staying in his house for some time and paying his room rent regularly, Harrell got in arrears and was pressed for money. He made out two payments on account, and apparently became tangled up in his idea of the balance due. From this came the dispute which led to the charge. Harrell claimed that the balance due was $8.50. Brown said it was $15. Harrell offered the money which he thought to be due, but his landlord held out for $15.

The tenant then sought other quarters, but left some things in his room. From this juncture the accounts of the parties differ. Brown claims that he thought his tenant was not coming back, and never intended paying what was due. Harrell claimed that he intended paying all that was owing, together with room rent up to the date of his removal of the goods. In this as it may, Brown opened the door of his room with a common key fitting all the locks in the house, and took away a quantity of cooking utensils and other things which he found lying about, and which he thought would just balance the debt of his roomer. All this happened on the 20th of July, and the charges were only filed yesterday afternoon.

The judge issued a warrant, but did not think much of the case as anything but a civil suit. He conceded, however, that there were sufficient facts in the case of a technical nature to warrant the arrest on a burglary charge, and decided to hear both sides of the story. Brown was released on $500 bail.

SCHOOL FOR STUDYING MECHANICAL OPTICS

Word has been received for the general manager of the Chino-Beratta Optical company that an opportunity will be given to Fresno young men to take up the study of mechanical optics. The company proposes to establish soon an optical school at Oakland, where their largest store and central factory is now located and will draw upon the five towns in which their stores are located for their students. Horace Davis, local manager of the Chino-Beratta store here, yesterday received word that the names of Fresno young men will be considered in advance of applicants from other towns. The students are required to sign for a three-year course. After the first two months they will receive $30 a month for ten months. During the second year they will receive $45 a month and during the third year they will receive $75 a month, as a minimum wage. SNOW BULLETINS.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 10.—Various points throughout Ohio report record-breaking weather today. At Zanesville the snow fell for three hours and the remarkable thing about it is that the snow came before any frost had come in that vicinity. An inch of snow fell at Findlay.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 10.—A heavy wet snow, driven by a high wind, fell here today. The storm is the most severe since that of October 5, 1892, and is general along Ohio's lake front.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 10.—There was a light fall of snow here today and in the mountain regions of Kentucky. This breaks all records for early snowfalls.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 10.—This was the earliest October day recorded in St. Louis, the temperature being 34 degrees.

NORFOLK, Neb., Oct. 10.—Last night was the coldest October weather in 28 years here, the mercury dropping to 17 above.

CYNTHIANA, Ky., Oct. 10.—The first snow of the season fell here today.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 10.—Four inches of snow fell here today.

FRENCH LICK, Ind., Oct. 10.—The Traveling Passenger Agents' Association today elected E. B. Pope of St. Louis president.

WAS BALD SIX YEARS.

Three Months of the New Scientific Treatment Restored His Hair.

Baldness is caused by dandruff, which is caused by a germ. Kill the germ and it is almost certain that hair will grow again if the follicle has not been totally destroyed. Nels Peterson of Lime Spur, Mont., says: "I had been bald six years, and had tried all kinds of cures, but without any benefit whatever, until I tried Herpeloid. November 16, 1899, I began using Herpeloid, and in three months a fine growth of hair covered my head completely." Ask your druggist for Herpeloid. Everybody can have luxuriant, glossy hair, if Herpeloid is used thoroughly. This is no substitute. Sold by leading druggists. Send the stamps for sample to The Herpeloid Co., Detroit, Mich. Geo. H. Monroe, Special Agent.

CIVIL PROCEEDINGS.

Suits Are Piling Up In Superior Court Against J. E. Reilly.

A complaint filed by H. O. Davis yesterday in the office of the county clerk alleges that J. E. Reilly is indebted to the plaintiff for $100.00, due on the lease of a ranch on the San Joaquin river. The place was taken by Reilly on April 15, 1905, and no rent has been paid since. M. K. Harris is attorney for Davis.

Davis began an attachment suit against Reilly some time ago in Judge Smith's court, and a number of other actions have been begun against the same defendant.

John M. Scorpion and George M. Scorpion have filed an amended answer to the suit of Scorpion Brothers, a corporation. This action is concerned with the control of the property of the corporation which has been in litigation for several years.

On petition from the daughter, Mrs. Anna F. Murphy was appointed by Judge Austin as guardian of the estate of her 14-year old daughter, Annie L. Murphy.

W. J. Hotchkiss has made answer to the second amended complaint of P. A. Stanton. The action is to quiet title.

CHICKEN SHOW IS PLANNED

To Be Held December 12th to 15th Inclusive.

Meeting at City Hall Last Night Made Initial Preparations.

The members of the Fresno Poultry Pigeon and Pet Stock association held an enthusiastic meeting at the City hall last night, and took the initiative steps toward holding the annual poultry show of the association in Fresno this fall.

The dates selected for the exhibition are from December 12th to 15th inclusive. The place of holding the show could not be settled yet, but several good locations were discussed and the committee will probably select the same show room as last year, if it is available at that time. The last show which was conducted by the best equipped and arranged, and the best show room that the association has ever been able to secure, was held in the old business college room on K street, between Fresno and Merced streets.

The judges have not yet been selected, but will probably be Bob Venn of Fresno and B. M. Woodhull of Stockton, who are both known all over the Pacific Coast as two of the best judges in the business.

Messrs. Holland, Shetfles, Kennedy, Stone and Forney were appointed a committee to solicit donations, which will be offered as prizes for the best specimens, pens, trills, pairs and so on. A committee was also appointed to award the contract of getting out the catalogue, which must be completed by November 7th, so that it can be mailed to all poultrymen on the Pacific Coast.

The show bids fair to be very successful in point of numbers of fowls entered and individual exhibitors. Only one other show, that of Hanford, which will follow the Fresno show the next week, will be held in the valley, and all others in the state will be held in January. The fanciers of this valley prefer an early show, so that the birds may be returned to the breeding pens by January 1st, and get the benefit of the early hatching.

The Fresno association is a little later than usual in getting started on this year, but it is not too late to get up a good show, and as everything looks favorable, they will undoubtedly have a very large and successful exhibition.

Three new members were elected at the meeting. They are C. H. Norris, R. H. Parkhurst and Smith & Darling, all of Fowler.

Another meeting will be held in about two weeks to hear reports of the committees and arrange for the publishing of the catalogue.

GENERAL TAXES NOW COMING IN

Collector Hancock's Force Busy Answering Letters.

This is tax paying season at the office of County Tax Collector Hancock, and the money for the support of the state, county and cities has been coming in since last Monday morning. Of course the payments so far are small, but the office force has been kept busy answering inquiries with regard to the tax statements of property owners.

By last Monday morning, a big waste basket of mail has been accumulated, the most of which contained inquiries for statements. These have been sent out. So far, the total amount of money received has been $5480.68, paid in as follows: Monday, $1997.56; on Tuesday, $1539.99; on Wednesday, $1942.83.

ACTRESS WAS KILLED BY TERRIBLE FALL

Plunged Down an Air Shaft Two Stories in Chicago Hotel With Fatal Results.

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—Miss Florence McDonald, known on the stage as Florence Raymond, 24 years old, a member of the "Blue Moon" company, now playing at the downtown theater, was killed early today by falling out of a fourth story window in the Windsor-Clifton hotel. The young woman plunged into an air shaft and her body struck the heavy plate glass roofing of the rotunda on the second floor. She was removed to the Wesley hotel, where she died about an hour afterwards.

The only witness to the accident was Miss M. DeBonnar, a member of the same theatrical company. Miss DeBonnar told the police that Miss McDonald came to her room with the intention of eating a light luncheon and that while sitting on the window sill she lost her balance. Although the police expressed themselves satisfied with the story told by Miss DeBonnar, she was placed under arrest pending the inquest.

A verdict of accidental death was returned by the coroner's jury and Miss DeBonnar was released.

THREATEN TO SUE VISALIA

Object to Careless Disposal of Sewage.

Another Bond Election May Be Called to Provide Better Outfall.

VISALIA, Oct. 10.—An injunction suit against the city is threatened by residents of the southwest part of town on account of the pumping into Mill creek of sewage, causing unsanitary odors to arise and endangering the health of the people generally. Further they claim that property values are depreciating and that other serious damage may result.

Last spring an election was called to vote bonds for the repair of the outfall of the sewer, but the bonds were voted down. It is probable that another election will be called to meet the exigencies of the present situation. Louis Pohlman, a well known citizen of Porterville, died last night at 7:30 o'clock after a short illness. He had not been feeling well for several days and yesterday evening, having eaten his supper, started for his room. He fell in the hallway, and when picked up was breathing his last. A coroner's jury this afternoon brought in a verdict of heart failure.

The deceased was engaged in the saloon business and was also the owner of an orange grove near Porterville. He was a charter member of the Masonic lodge at that place, of which there are now only four survivors. He was also a member of Visalia Commandery, Knights Templar. He was a native of Germany, aged 53 years. The funeral will be held Friday afternoon. He leaves a wife and several children.

It is believed now that the largest part of the grapes stolen from the Encina vineyard was the work of choppers, of whom there were 200 in the vicinity. The vineyard was young and it is probable that the tonnage was somewhat overestimated.

The wedding of Joseph Sherman, an accountant in the Bank of Visalia, and Miss Edna DeWitt, one of the Tulare city belles, is announced to take place at the home of the latter's parents in Tulare on the 17th instant.

Mrs. D. Wallace of San Francisco, owner of the New Palm Garden property on Main street, and daughter, Miss Ida Wallace, are here from the Bay City on a combined business and pleasure trip. They formerly resided in Visalia and Miss Wallace and sister, the latter formerly Miss Sarah Wallace, were born in the adobe building adjoining the Delta office, now used as a Chinese washhouse.

T. Brooker, a Mexican, was arrested by Officer DeVal at 6 o'clock yesterday morning charged with burglary. Brooker entered a room occupied by Frank Ramirez in a lodging house about 5 o'clock this morning and rifled the trunks of the sleeper, taking $75.00. Ramirez was awakened by the noise of the intruder leaving, and dressing hurriedly, found the other in the hallway, he having just emerged from his (Brooker's) own room. Later Ramirez identified a marked coin which Brooker had paid to another lodger. The officers were notified and Brooker taken into custody.

No trace has yet been found of the two Mexicans who took money from the pockets of a man named Oliver in the Maine saloon last night. Good descriptions of their clothing were given the officers and it is likely that they will be taken into custody. The robbery was a particularly bold one. Oliver was standing by the bar in an intoxicated condition. The two Mexicans entered the place and each locked arms with Oliver and with their free hands took money from his pockets amounting to about $15. They then made their escape through the front doors.

H. Lambers, V. M. Landers, Flossie Landers and Jessie Landers were passengers on the Southern Pacific this morning for Fair Play, Mo.

Mrs. Dr. McClellan returned to her home at Los Banos this morning after a visit with her brother, W. R. Byrd, who has been very sick.

TRADE BOYCOTT BY SOUTH AMERICANS

Extraordinary Circulars Received By New Orleans Merchants From Costa Rica.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 10.—Printed circulars threatening that South American countries will boycott the goods of American manufacturers who vote the Roosevelt principles in the next presidential election, have been circulating since several New Orleans manufacturing firms. The circular, which it is claimed to have been drafted in Caracas, Venezuela, on September 12th, reads in part:

"American manufacturers who vote the Roosevelt ballot in the next presidential election will be excluded from South American trade."

"President Roosevelt has said in some recent speeches that the Latin American countries are bound to disappear for two reasons: First, because they are Latin, and second, because they are small."

The circular then says that the Democratic party is disposed "to fraternize with us and treat us on an equal basis."

It says that 112 boycott stations have been established, but does not explain what is meant by boycott stations. The organization is claimed to be on a military basis, entirely independent of South American governments and better organized than the Chinese boycott. The circulars were mailed from San Jose, Costa Rica.

Two Sailors Killed at Sea.

FALMOUTH, Eng., Oct. 10.—Captain Perrin of the British bark Gladys from Shields, September 15th for Seattle, put in here today, and reported that during a gale on October 7th, two seamen fell from the topsail yard (being instantly killed).

Methodist Women's Mission.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 10.—The twenty-fifth annual convention of the Women's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church opened here today with more than 200 delegates present from every state in the Union. The opening address was delivered by the president, Mrs. Clinton B. Fiske, of New York.

FEATHERED FIREMAN EXTINGUISH BLAZE

Furniture Store Scene of Yesterday's Conflagration.

At a fire which occurred yesterday morning on Fresno street, the fire fighters of the department who responded promptly to an alarm sent in soon became enveloped in feathers and resembled a number of huge moulted chickens with Chief Ward as a busy bantam, as they rushed about in the smoke and water. The feathers came from a number of mattresses and pillows on the second floor of the Chicago Furniture store near K street. The place is owned by the Darbinian brothers.

An employee of the power house was engaged in fixing the electric lights on the roof of the basement store when his torch ignited the woodwork, creeping through the crevices of the roof and entering the upper story, which was filled with bedding and furniture in an instant the blaze crept upward and spread. An alarm was sent in at once, and the engines arrived on the scene with lightning rapidity.

Despite the highly inflammable nature of the ignited articles, the flames were extinguished in short order, and the loss is comparatively slight. The total damage sustained is something like $450, fully covered by insurance.

ANOTHER RAID AT HANFORD

Officers Gather in Eighteen Gamblers.

A Wagon Load of Outfits and $456 in Cash Captured By Officers.

HANFORD, Oct. 10.—Marshal Frederick and a posse of deputies made a second raid last night on the gamblers of Chinatown and made even a larger haul than at the first raid. Eighteen gamblers were gathered in, fourteen Japs and four Chinamen, and besides a wagon load of gambling outfits, $456 in cash was secured.

The prisoners were taken before City Recorder Randall this afternoon. The Chinamen pleaded not guilty and were released on their giving a cash bond of $100 each. Six of the Japanese, T. Yagame, S. Endo, K. Taba, T. Niyayama, K. Namura and M. H. Turibehi, pleaded guilty and were fined $10 each. The other eight pleaded not guilty and were taken to jail.

A marriage license was issued today by Fred E. Dallas of Coalinga, aged 31, and Miss Lydia Mattis of Lemoore, aged 27 years.

In the Superior court of Kings county W. G. Baker was today granted a divorce from Martha E. Baker on the ground of desertion, Judge M. T. Short issuing the decree.

Dean Tuttle, a young man employed on the Bottsford ranch, was arrested today by Sheriff Backner on the complaint of Oliver Taylor, who charges him with taking a horse from the Bottsford ranch. He failed to return the animal and Tuttle claims that he turned the horse loose near Armona.

The congregation of the Irwin street M. E. church and the members of the Epworth league tendered a reception at the church last night to Rev. W. C. Geyer and family, the former having been returned to the Hanford after which refreshments were served. The affair proved an altogether delightful one.

"BUSINESS MEN."

In Hanford, the other day, the mayor replied to certain petitioners who wished the ordinance relaxed so as to permit card games or machine-gambling for cigars, that "if it was shown that the majority of Hanford's business men want the ordinance modified, the board will consider it." In Fresno, on the same issue, the mayor and some of the trustees resented as "dictation" any advice from the Ministerial union, the labor unions, the newspapers, the lawyers or doctors, but the instant they learned that the "business men"—in other words, the retail merchants—also opposed the return of the gambling machines, they took this expression of opinion from the ruling class as conclusive. Examples might be multiplied from this and other cities, of the common fallacy—that the opinion of "business men" is the only opinion that counts; that this is a government not "of the people, by the people and for the people," but "of the people, by the business men, for business." This theory is not avowed or proclaimed; it is simply taken for granted; indeed, most of those who assume it seem entirely unconscious of the existence of any other theory. They simply assume, as the fundamental background of all their thoughts, that this is a class government, in which the merchant class has a natural right to rule all the others, and in which the ultimate remedy for all ills will be obtained when we some day succeed in putting "business men" in all the offices.

Now, nobody denies the importance of business men to a community, or the general high character of the business man individually. In their general usefulness for the upbuilding of communities, the merchants stand only second to the producers—farmers, laborers and manufacturers—and considerably outrank the professional classes who are often regarded as their superiors. And in public affairs, their influence, whenever they will consent to exercise it, is very valuable indeed. We probably owe to them the present gambling-machine victory, in Fresno, and other important attainments. But we submit, in the first place, that no class in a democratic country has a right to regard itself, or to be regarded, as the ruling class, and, in the second place, if there is any class of men whose voice is entitled to less weight than any other, it is precisely these "business men," to whose slightest confidential whisper such awe and deference is paid. So long as it is preached as a "business principle" that "a business man has no business meddling with politics," just so long has the business man no rights in politics. No man or set of men is entitled to any more public influence than he or they will consent to exercise publicly. There are signs of improvement in this respect—the nickel-in-the-slot petition is one—but the general rule still holds good that there is no class of people so averse to taking part in public affairs as precisely this class of "business men." Therefore, there should be no class with so little influence in public affairs. So long as business men are afraid to participate actively and personally in matters of government, just so long will their whole function in government be confined to paying such taxes and submitting to such administration as may be imposed on them, without complaint or criticism. Their right to criticism or influence begins with their willingness to hear their share of the brunt of public activity. And even when they thus earn it, their right will be only to equal consideration with other classes, not to superior consideration. Every symptom that the traditional political timidity of business men is being overcome, it will be welcomed. But every suggestion, on the part of city officials, that the opinion of "business men" is to be the conclusive standard of public opinion, ought to be resented. Public opinion ought to be the opinion of the whole public. There should not be class government of any sort. And there never will be class government of this sort. If we ever have class government, it will be a plutocracy or a mobocracy. The middle class, to which the merchants belong, can never aspire to more than an equal right, with the rest, and it should not get that, until it manifests equal courage and independence with the rest.

SAN FRANCISCO THUGS.

The contrast between the absolute good order of San Francisco, during the time the saloons were closed, and the present epidemic of thuggery, naturally suggests some very strong anti-saloon arguments. Still, it will not do to jump quite to the radical conclusion that all violent crime is due to saloons. To be sure, when there were no saloons in San Francisco, there was no violence, and now, with the saloons, there is an uncontrolled epidemic of it. If the saloons were to be closed again, the violence would shortly stop. But nevertheless, the connection between the saloons and the violence is probably more indirect than direct. The few things who are committing these robberies and assaults would be brutes and thieves, drunk or sober. The closing of the saloons did not reform these men, and their reopening did not brutalize them. But the closing of the saloons did make San Francisco so undesirable a place of residence to those criminals that they scattered elsewhere.

Your low type of criminal, the sneak thief or gas pipe thug, will not live where there are no saloons. If saloons were abolished everywhere, he would continue operations wherever it might be safest or most profitable. But if saloons are abolished in only a few places, he chooses the others.

Besides, the things were scared away from San Francisco quite as much by soldiers as by saloons, and they are attracted back quite as much by bad government as by bad whisky. Never was "the kindness of the strong arm" better shown than by the military rule of San Francisco. After that rule was once established, not a shot was fired, scarcely an arrest was made, nobody was molested, and life went on smoothly and freely. The presence of a large armed force did not in the least injure any well-disposed person, and it frightened away the ill-disposed. Even after the soldiers were withdrawn and the saloons reopened, there was good order so long as there was honest government. Only when grafting began, high up, did robbery and murder begin, low down. And only the establishment of good government can re-establish good order.

They had freezing weather and snow in Chicago yesterday; sunshine, flowers, balmy air, shirt-sleeve weather in Fresno. Blessed California!

GAINED 990 IN REGISTRATION

Gratifying Increase in Number of Voters.

This Is the Last Day in Which Change of Precinct is Possible.

Today is the last day upon which voters, who have their names on the great register but have changed their residence since, may make transfer at the office of the county clerk.

The force of deputies have now completed the work of entering the registration certificates in the books. The records of the office, so that it is now possible to give the total registration for this year. The total for the county given below is correct, although the transfers made during the last few days will make some change in the figures for many of the precincts.

The totals show a gratifying increase over the registration of last year of 990, or about 9 per cent. This, however, was entirely made in the country districts, the fourteen city precincts going behind by 120 names. Some of the large precincts immensely around Fresno ran low, as well, such as Easterby and East Fresno. On the other hand, Fowler and Selma showed a marked increase.

UNCLE PAYS FORGED NOTES

W. J. Pettit Forges Name of C. B. Shaver, His Uncle.

Graceless Nephew of Well Known Fresno Cashes Bogus Checks.

W. A. J. Pettit, an engaging young fellow who drifted into town a few weeks ago and quartered himself upon his uncle, C. B. Shaver, president of the Fresno Flume and Irrigation company, forged several checks about town last week in his uncle's name, and cashed them with local tradesmen. The cashier of the check bearing dates of last Friday and Saturday, turned up on Monday morning. The banks turned them down and notified Mr. Shaver, who at once investigated. In the meantime young Pettit was missing, having disappeared with something like $225 in cash obtained by his check-cashing. Mr. Shaver went around to the victimized men and paid off every cent in full, to avoid criminal proceedings against his nephew.

Pettit came to this place from Butte, Mont., about five weeks ago. Previous to his residence there he lived in Michigan. Little is known of his antecedents, although he gave out that he was bookkeeper for a large firm, and held responsible positions. On his arrival here he introduced himself to his uncle and was made welcome while employment was found for him. One position was secured, but he contrived to get discharged after a fortnight's trial. He then went to work as a time keeper for the flume company, but there again he failed to make good. His uncle summarily discharged him and washed his hands of his graceless nephew.

For a few days he loitered about town, borrowing money and making himself a good fellow on the money. Towards the latter end of last week he evidently had his plans fixed. Knowing that he would have a good start before the banks opened on Monday morning, and feeling secure in his uncle's disinclination to prosecute him, he forged check after check and presented them at various places where he was known. At most of the places, he sent a fake telephone message purporting to come from his uncle, saying that the check would be all right if his nephew came along and cashed it.

Among those who were victimized were Sky Hies, the Sequoia Cafe, Luther Neil, Rainin & Kamp and others.

Pettit was a young fellow of good address and pleasing manners. He won many acquaintances and made himself popular by the manner with which he diffused his money. On Saturday night, just before leaving for parts unknown, he left a note for the train, he distributed liquid largesse to the hangers-on in many of the lower class saloons. He took nothing in the way of baggage with him, simply stepping on the train just as it pulled out, and telling a friend that he was going up the line for a couple of miles to visit a friend on a neighboring ranch for the Sunday.

Owing to the destruction of the forged checks and absence of evidence, there will be no prosecution.

GAS ADDICKS ROASTS ALEE

Hot Resolutions Passed By Convention.

United States Senator De-nounced for Treachery Toward Benefactor.

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 9.—The Union Republican state convention, originally called for Dover on August 28th and deferred to await the outcome of the "harmony" Republican state convention at Dover on September 5th, was held here tonight. J. Edward Addicks presided. The ticket nominated by the convention of September 5th was endorsed. It included H. R. Bacon for congress.

The platform condemns United States Senator J. Frank Alee "for the deception he has practiced on the president of the United States whereby he has induced the president to grant him appointments for members of the state committee, in an endeavor to control that committee and disrupt the Union Republican party."

The platform further says: "This convention views with loathing the treachery of J. Frank Alee, now United States senator from this state toward his creator and benefactor (meaning Addicks). He merits, and should receive, the contempt of every man in the state, irrespective of party."

Senator Beveridge Is Ill. BOSTON, Oct. 10.—United States Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana is ill of a cold at the home of George F. Riker in Brookline, and it is probable that all his speaking engagements for a week or ten days will be canceled.

Bryan Spoke at Sedalia. SEDALIA, Mo., Oct. 10.—W. J. Bryan arrived here this afternoon. He was met at the station by 2000 persons and escorted to the new Sedalia theater, where he spoke to a crowd that taxed the capacity of the house.

San Francisco Presbyterians. SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—At ten o'clock today of the San Francisco Presbyterians, several grants were made for missionary extension and Euston chosen as the next place of convention.

More Thuggery in San Francisco. SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—L. M. Mand, a sailor, reported to the police this morning that he was held up Sunday evening on Sixteenth street when a robbed of a watch and several dollars.

POLICE ROUND UP SHADY CHARACTERS

Carnival of Crime Following Hold Up Will Be Nipped in the Bud.

Who betide any individual in Fresno who looks shady and can give no logical account of his movements and whereabouts. The police department will give them short sniffs, and there is going to be no danger of a carnival of crime to follow the hold-up of last night, with the suspected attempt of thugs' work in Redick's barn.

Last night Officers Cronkrite and Aubrey corralled half a dozen wearies and jolted them on vagrancy charges to hold them and look into their doings a little. The fellows could give no very good accounts of themselves and were found wandering aimlessly about the streets.

PARDONING OF EDWARDS

Short Term for the Convicted Veterinary.

Governor's Mitigation of Sentence Is Generally Approved.

The news that Governor Pardee has granted a pardon to George Edward Matthews, better known as "Doc" Edwards, was received yesterday afternoon with general satisfaction by those to whom it was communicated by the Republican. Matthews was convicted on May 20, 1902, upon the charge of rape, O. L. Everts, then district attorney, and his law partner, D. S. Ewing, conducting the prosecution and Sam J. Hinds and the late Walter D. Tupper making a vigorous defense. Judge Austin presided at the trial, which lasted nearly a week and was marked by many sensational incidents.

Edwards conducted a lively stable on South T street and the evidence was to the effect that he induced the two girls concerned in the case to visit him there and that there and elsewhere he was guilty of improper conduct toward them.

After his conviction and sentence to thirty years' imprisonment, there seemed to develop a revulsion of popular feeling, especially as it became abundantly evident during the trial and subsequently that the girls were far from being the injured victims of a man's villainy, but rather deservings of commendation for the part they played in the affair.

Attorney Hinds, for Matthews, made a strenuous fight before the Supreme court in an effort to secure a new trial. The principal ground for the application was that when the jury was taken to view the scene of the alleged offense, the prisoner, contrary to the requirements of the law, was not taken along. As a matter of fact, it appeared that when the jury and court officials started to the I street stable, Edwards, or Matthews, went with them, but thinking it unnecessary for him to go with them, and meeting a friend who offered to treat him to a drink, he stepped into a K street saloon.

Later, during the trial, several heated passages took place in regard to this incident, the attorneys for the prosecution asserting that Hinds and Tupper told Matthews to act as he did, for the purpose of laying the grounds for the motion for new trial.

The Supreme court in July, 1903, upheld the trial court on all points and by the time Matthews left for the penitentiary the popular feeling was already so changed that expressions of regret were general that he should be made to suffer for what he had been "foolishly led into doing."

A few months ago, a petition for his pardon was circulated in the city. Attorneys Everts and Ewing being among the promoters of the movement for clemency. Judge Austin and most of the members of the jury also signed it and it was a formidable document when sent to Governor Pardee. Its effect is evidenced by the governor's action.

Although Matthews was known as Edwards it came out during the trial that his real name is George Edward Matthews. It was never explained why he went under the alias.

TO RE-NAME THE STREETS

D. L. Newman Would Do Away With Alphabet.

Suggestion Is Made to Weekly Meeting of Chamber of Commerce.

D. L. Newman of the executive committee of the chamber of commerce has suggested a change in the names of the streets of this city running northwest and southeast. The change was suggested in a written communication to the meeting of the committee last night, as follows:

"Gentlemen—Knowing that our present system of street names, viz: A to Z, is very unsatisfactory to the business men of this city, I beg leave to submit the following proposal as a more satisfactory plan and desire to have a committee appointed to wait upon the proper authorities recommending the change.

"Instead of using the letters A, B, C, etc., name the streets after either the pioneers or prominent citizens of Fresno who have been instrumental in the growth and welfare of the city. The initial of the name being coincident with the letter of the street it replaces, as: Allison, Berry, Griffith, Helm, Irwin, Jefferson, Kennedy, Lisenby, Marshall, Noble, Tupper, Upton, Vincent, Weaver, Young and Zapp."

No action was taken upon the suggestion.

Regular Business. The secretary of the chamber had managed to scrape of a quorum to hold a meeting and the business of the meeting was transacted. Hobbs, Gundelfinger, Redick, Johnson and Mattingly were present. Applications for membership from I. S. Knight and the San Joaquin Investment Company were received and granted. The resignations of W. J. O'Neill and the Pierce Lumber Company were read and passed. The secretary explained that Mr. Pierce and Mr. Anderson were both members of the chamber and they did not think it necessary for the firm to belong also.

Redick, chairman of the advertising committee, then brought up the matter of having advertising booklets printed. He moved that the advertising committee be given full power to act, in having from 10,000 to 20,000 booklets printed, the expenditure not to exceed $900. This brought up a lively discussion. Mattingly asked from whom estimates had been received, and when he was told that only local printers had been given a chance, he was opposed to giving the committee on advertising full power. He cited a former instance in which booklets were printed by local houses and he said it was a "hold-up game."

Redick said that any extra expense was more than counteracted by the advantage of proof reading and personal supervision of the work by the committee. He further stated that the present labor conditions could be better by local printers than those about San Francisco and much of the San Francisco work since the earthquake, has been done by Fresno printers.

Gundelfinger said it would take practically all the money in the treasury to print these pamphlets and did not think it wise for them to be flat broke. After a little further discussion the motion was unanimously carried.

Correspondence from Congressman Needham was read, in which the work of reclaiming alkali land was commended and assurance of further appropriations for this work were made. The secretary was directed to have some colored slides of Fresno views made in order that a lecturer might be sent out.

STRONG STORY BY A NURSE

TOMS RIVER, N. J., Oct. 10.—Miss Una Dudley, a nurse who attended Mrs. Carrie Browner just before her death, continued her testimony today in the trial of Dr. Frank Browner, charged with having poisoned his wife.

Half an hour after an anæmia was prepared by Dr. Browner, the witness said, Mrs. Browner had a convulsion. The patient also had several other convulsions.

"I had you a suspicion that Mrs. Browner was being poisoned by her husband," asked the cross examiner.

"I suspected something," was the reply.

Miss Dudley's description of the sufferings of Mrs. Browner after partaking of a dose of medicine prepared by Dr. Browner was sensational. Following her narrative of the effect of Dr. Browner's stimulants the witness gave a dramatic portrayal of Mrs. Browner's agony directly after such medicines were given her.

"Her face became blue," said the witness. "Her legs and arms quivered with pain, her jaws set, her toes turned under and she clutched me like a vice."

The witness also testified as to the manner in which Mrs. Browner improved when her husband's preparations were ignored, and those of the nurse were used instead.

Dr. Browner never took his eyes off Miss Dudley from the time she went in the witness chair until she left it. His tall, heavy figure at times twitched nervously, but he never lost the remarkable self control he has displayed since his arrest.

The lawyers for the defense have not yet publicly indicated what their line of defense will be. It is expected, however, that they will endeavor to show that pomanine poisoning caused Mrs. Browner's death and that they will call experts to testify that pomanine poisoning exhibits the same symptoms as these.

Absorbing interest in the trial continues the little court house being thronged at every session. In the town nothing else is talked of.

HOPE TO FIND BODY TODAY

Remains of Henry Tupper Almost Certainly Located.

Heroic Efforts of Searchers in Scaling the Cliff Below Union Point.

Late yesterday afternoon dispatches were received in this city that the body of Henry Tupper, the Fresno boy who was lost over the cliff last Sunday morning, had not yet been found, it had been located with almost certainty, and it was hoped that the search would be ended this morning. A private dispatch was received by the Republican as follows:

(By Associated Press.)

WAWONA, Oct. 16.—The searching party on returning home tonight believed they had located the body of young Tupper. They started at 9:30 and worked all day trying to get the body where he may have landed. The last ledge that showed any sign of his presence was marked only by the point of his feet as he struck for the first and last time on the ledge.

It is evident that he landed from this ledge over a precipice of 700 feet to a bench almost at the foot of the valley, where the lumberers are so large that it seems impossible for any human being to cross. Tomorrow some one will be lowered the 700 feet and an attempt to cross at the bottom will be made.

It is believed the body is lying in some rocks about 600 feet below where the tracks were seen. There is talk of working up from the foot of the valley with ropes and ladders. This will be less dangerous, and it is believed a more successful way.

Private Hopkins went down a rope today with it wrapped around only one leg and returned hand over hand. He is highly commended for his daring feat.

YOSEMITE, Oct. 16.—The searching parties who have been out all day endeavoring to recover the body of young H. W. Tupper returned late this afternoon without having recovered his purpose. However, they now feel certain that they have located the body and that it can be recovered tomorrow.

They commenced work early this morning from the point where the hat was found yesterday and with this as a starting point worked back up and down the cliff. It is now almost certain that the body lies in some brush on a ledge at least 600 feet below where the hat was found and about 200 feet above the foot of the valley, showing that Tupper must have dropped at least 1000 feet in his wild plunge down the cliff. The great difficulty has been to locate the body, but now that this is almost a certainty the searchers feel confident that the body can be reached and recovered.

No one not familiar with the place can conceive what a task the search for the body has been and the chances that it is necessary to take in order to work along the cliffs.

One of the searching parties had quite an adventure today. He had been lowered over the cliff about 200 feet below where the hat was found. While the parties on this ledge were attempting to draw him back, the rope on which he was suspended caught in a crevice and he hung in mid air for some minutes while frantic efforts were made by both himself and those drawing him up to loosen the rope.

SECRETARY WILCOX ON Y. M. C. A. EDUCATION

Urges Extension of Night School Work Among Classes Employed in the Day Time.

State Secretary R. B. Wilcox of the Y. M. C. A. had a conference last night with the educational committee and others interested in the Y. M. C. A. night school in regard to ways and means of increasing the usefulness of this branch of the work. Mr. Wilcox delivered an interesting talk, showing the amount of room there is for educational work among those employed in the daytime, and the cash value of trained skill. He particularly emphasized the need of studying the needs of the local field, and supplying work to meet those needs. In Los Angeles, for instance, courses in show-card writing, salesmanship and real-estate have been introduced with much success, and in some cities "first aid to the injured" courses have been given to policemen and firemen. All the educational work in Y. M. C. A. night schools is distinctly vocational, intended to be of immediate business use to the student. Fresno has so far done very little of this class of work, and Mr. Wilcox urged extending the work as fast as money could be raised to support it.

HUSBAND HER JUNIOR BY SIXTEEN YEARS

Couple from Madera County Married by Justice.

Granted in formal robes of pale green and pink, with a large purple picture hat covered with nodding plumes of palest blue, Mrs. Emma Lorenzen figured as the bride in an interesting wedding ceremony before Judge Smith yesterday when Joseph Olin Allison claimed the bride for his wife. It is not always polite to tell the age of brides, but when they are hand-some and jolly and do not look half their age, it may be done on the etiquette book says. This particular bride was 46 and her devoted husband sixteen summers her junior, and it gives promise of being a wonderfully happy match. The genial judge completed the ceremony with a judicial salute on the bride's peachy cheek.

Mrs. Allison is a native of Denmark and her husband of Illinois, although he has lived in this country many years and has a large circle of friends here. They have gone to live at O'Neals in a comfortable home owned by the groom.

Navajo Council.
Gay Spanish sonnetists and dashing cavaliers mingled with bewitching folk, soldiers, noble dames and merry sailor lads and lassies last night in the mad, merry whirl of masqueraders at the masquerade at Recreation park rink. Navajo council, degree of Potomac, never do things by halves, and last night's brilliant affair is only another and stronger proof of their ability to entertain in a delightful way. The skating rink management turned the rink over to the council members for the entire evening from 7:30 until midnight, and during these hours the rink was taxed to its fullest capacity and the walls were lined with interested spectators. Attention was centered upon the individual prize skates for which handsome prizes were awarded.

Miss Jean Archibald, as "The Queen of Hearts," took the prize for the most original body character. She was awarded a pair of big gloves. Walter Pugh, as "Trump," took the prize for the most original man character. He got a box of cigars donated by Nelson Brothers. The best sustained body character was Miss Mabel Green, dressed as "A Cowboy Girl." She received a black silk umbrella. Mr. Chambers received a pair of skates donated by the Recreation Park amusement company for the best sustained man character. He represented "An Indian Chief."

Lincoln Withersford and Miss Hazel Smith received 4th for being the most graceful couple on wheels. The ladies of the council who took charge of the affair were as follows: Ticket office, Miss Emma Sumner; door, Mrs. C. W. Holston; check room, Mrs. Harry Fredericks and Miss Grace Jones; skate tickets, Miss Lorena Babcock; mushes, Miss M. Matthews; floor managers, Miss Corinne Jones, Amber Justice, Miss J. Campbell and Walter Knight and Mrs. Zoloh Knudsen. Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Murrell led the grand march.

Modern Woodmen.
Sunset camp Modern Woodmen and Sunrise camp Royal Neighbors, with their families, united last night in the jolliest kind of a social—a cowboy social. Formality was entirely forgotten in the unraveling of the intricate fibers of the web formed of bright colored cards strung about the hall and by the time the end was reached a cry-lady was in the best possible humor with himself and his neighbors. And so the evening continued with interesting and amusing music for variety. Miss Bertha Kellogg at the piano gave some pleasing numbers. C. W. Reall and Otis Turner in their usual happy manner gave enjoyable vocal numbers and Harry Kinney was heard in several of his inimitable piano solos. Jack McFarland further added to everybody's enjoyment with an irresistible Irish jig. Deaver S. Church made an entertaining speech and the evening's fun wound up with an old-fashioned quadrille and a Virginia reel. During the evening refreshments of punch and cake were served.

Lady Macabees.
The attendance last night at Pride of the West bive, Lady Macabees, was quite up to the average. Two applications for membership were received and several new officers were installed with one ceremony. Mrs. A. P. Baker was installed as lieutenant commander and Mrs. Lizzie Peck as chaplain. Mrs. Lambert, formerly lieutenant commander, has gone to Santa Cruz to reside and it was necessary to fill her place. The great event with the bive at present is the dance in Armory hall on Saturday night. This is to be a candidates' ball—the last one before the election, and will doubtless be an enthusiastic success. Later on in the month the bive is arranging for a social among the members, plans for which will be announced later. After the meeting last night, Mrs. Rapelye, the retiring lady commander, treated the ladies to ice cream and cake at a local confectionery. She leaves on Sunday for Goldfield to join her husband, and this was her farewell to her Macabee friends, by whom it was greatly appreciated and enjoyed.

The ladies of the G. A. R., George A. Center circle, gave a delightful reception on last Saturday afternoon in honor of their junior vice president, Mary C. Harris, who will leave shortly to make her home in Oakland. The comrades were also present to participate in the event, and genuine regret was expressed by the assembled company because of the departure of Mrs. Harris, who has been most popular and active in the work and social affairs of the circle. The ladies auxiliary, No. 2, joined with the circle in the fraternal. Mrs. Harris being the guard on the auxiliary. The hostesses of her associates accompanying her to her new home.

Artisans.
The United Artisans met as usual in Kohler hall on Tuesday evening enjoying a particularly pleasant social evening at which a committee of gentlemen acted as hosts. They proved themselves quite equal to their task and furnished an evening of unequal enjoyment for the members of the lodge. Included in the committee were George Kohler, H. T. Seaburg and L. Ben Schuler. A social dance will be given by the lodge a week from Saturday night in Kohler hall.

Important.

STATE REALTY MEN

GATHERING IN FRESNO

Delegates to Federation Convention Gathering for Opening Session—Purposes of the Organization and Activity of Local Branch.

(DeWitt H. Gray, President Fresno Realty Board.)

(H. C. B. Gill, Secretary Fresno Realty Board.)

Today there will be welcomed to this city the State Real Estate Federation, which is to hold a three days' session with the Fresno Realty Board as host. Already the delegates from various parts of the state are gathering in this city, and are being greeted by committees of the local organization, which has but nothing unduly that might contribute to the entertainment of the representative land men from all parts of the state who will be here.

About fifty delegates are to be here, and with other visiting real estate men will bring the number of visitors up to more than sixty. The local organizations included in the state federation include Los Angeles, Riverside and a number of smaller towns in the southern part of the state, San Jose, Oakland, Stockton, Alameda, Berkeley and San Francisco. The strong organization in San Francisco has just been brought into the federation and its membership and assistance will aid greatly in the usefulness of the federation. The San Francisco, Oakland and Los Angeles headquarters will be at the Hughes, while San Jose and Berkeley will be at the Sequoia.

The purpose of the state organization of real estate men is manifold, but the main reason for its existence is the manifest need of an organization that will give the land advertising of the state both unity and character, in other words to prevent both knocking and swindling. Membership in the federation imposes responsibility on the individuals and is a certificate of good character to intending purchasers. The federation can also do much good in the way of looking out for the political interests of the land of the state, keeping an eye on proposed legislation, as well as upon tax rates, malds.

public improvements and the like. Other states, as well as California, have exemplified the good to be accomplished in this way. For instance, in Colorado, there is a state federation of realty that supervises all legislation with regard to certification of land titles, and the like.

The Fresno board, in preparing for this convention, has kept two things in mind, that of making the visit of the delegates to this county as pleasant as possible, and other that of making it instructive. It is felt that much of the popular conception of Fresno is erroneous, and an effort will be made to present as much of the real thing as possible. With this in view the little excursions to Selma, Clovis and other places have been planned. It is expected that all of the delegates will be here by noon. Then in the afternoon a suburban excursion will be made, and in the evening, at 8 o'clock, formal welcoming to the town and organization will take place.

There will be many things in the course of the convention that will be of interest and benefit to real estate men. As usual, there will be a lively contest for the privilege of holding the next meeting of the federation.

The work of the Fresno Realty board has become very well known to the people of Fresno during the two years of its existence. The board has had active and efficient officers, and has to its credit, among other things, initiation and promotion of the Los Angeles exhibit, the Terminal League movement and the Taxpayers' League. The energy of the work it is doing is being recognized by the business men, many of whom, although not dealers in land, are encouraging it by becoming associate members.

The sessions of the convention will continue until late Saturday afternoon.

(J. M. Collier, Treasurer Fresno Realty Board.)

Madera Man Charged With Embezzlement Does Not Remember Transaction.

MADERA, Oct. 9.—Alexander Belendez put in a defense of being drunk and unconscious of what he was doing yesterday when on trial for embezzlement, charged with stealing a horse and buggy. The defendant took the stand on his own behalf and denied all knowledge of the offense. But for the prosecution, evidence was lacking to show that he was perfectly sane and knew what he was about, one witness named Origenes of Los Banos, the man to whom the accused man sold the horse and buggy testified that defendant appeared in a perfectly clear and sane state when he transacted the deal, and signed his name to the bill of sale before a notary public, who also thought him in a normal state of mind. THE SOCIETY

Mrs. Mary Maxwell entertained very pleasantly yesterday afternoon at her home on F street in honor of her mother, Mrs. Z. T. Maxwell. This is the third of a series of delightful little entertainments which the Maxwells have been giving since their return from the coast. They expect to entertain rather extensively this winter and have begun the season by entertaining an exceedingly pleasant way. Their guests were politely decorated yesterday and the guests enjoyed a number of pleasant diversions, "500" and other games occupying the afternoon hours. A dainty little spread concluded the afternoon's pleasure. Enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. Maxwell and her mother were Mrs. Scott McKay, Mrs. C. S. Pierce, Mrs. C. L. McKay, Mrs. J. S. Jones, Mrs. A. R. Clark, Mrs. T. J. Hammond, Mrs. A. L. Hubbs, Mrs. G. L. Kears, Mrs. G. M. Bales, Mrs. G. R. Taylor, Mrs. T. M. Hayden, Mrs. A. Kump, Mrs. H. Radin and Mrs. Sayre.

Mrs. P. N. Russell and little son, Dr. Witt left yesterday afternoon for San Francisco to join her father, Judge Hildreth, in an extended Eastern trip. This was an unexpected pleasure to Mrs. Russell, her father telegraphing her a day or two ago inviting her to accompany him East to Chicago, St. Louis, New York and other Eastern cities. They will spend some time with relatives in Kansas City also. Dr. Russell is quite himself again having recovered from his recent severe illness. He is in San Francisco now, but will return home in a day or two.

Mrs. D. S. Ewing and her little twin daughters left last Saturday on a trip to Seattle, where they will be joined later by Mr. Ewing.

The Missionary Society of the Christian church met on Tuesday afternoon in the church parlors. The ladies have decided to meet on the second Tuesday of the month this year, yesterday's session being the first of the year.

Mrs. A. C. Swartz is in the presidential chair. The first hour of the evening was spent with the devotionals of interest in connection with the mission cause, news of happenings in foreign lands and the work of establishing schools and new missions.

Mrs. G. M. Bales was in charge of the second hour, which had for its subject of discussion "Missions in Africa." Most interesting and instructive papers were read by Mrs. Bales, Mrs. Frank Craycroft, Mrs. W. D. Bowen. About forty members were present yesterday to participate in the program arranged for the afternoon. The year promised to be one of unusual interest to the society.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Layman of Oakland and Mr. and Mrs. Yordie of Covelo, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. Parker Lyon for a few days, returned home early this week. The visitors enjoyed a number of pleasant drives and informal little affairs together during their visit to Fresno.

The Parlor Lecture club entertains this afternoon with an "At Home" to the members, the day being in charge of the hospitality committee. The club members are looking forward to an afternoon of delightful sociability and it is safe to say they will not be disappointed. There will be music to refreshment and refreshment will be served.

Mrs. H. B. Bates will leave this afternoon for La Junta, Colorado, to visit her daughter, Mrs. Evan Porter, who was a visitor in Fresno last year. Mrs. Bates was summoned to Colorado by the news of the illness of her son-in-law and will probably be gone a month or more.

Mrs. John Mattingly has returned from a visit of several days in San Francisco.

Mrs. Louise Richard Eccleston has returned from Springfield, Massachusetts, where she has been visiting her father, Hon. Joseph McAdoo. She was called East by the serious illness of her mother, who died a few days after her daughter reached home. En route to Fresno, Mrs. Eccleston spent a week in Los Angeles with Mrs. Oscar Martyn Headley at her handsome new home in Chester Place.

The Kaffee Klatsch was most enjoyably entertained yesterday afternoon with Mrs. J. L. Bell, the president. There is never a dull moment when this congenial group of friends assemble and yesterday seemed to have been no exception.

MASKED THUG HOLDS UP RAILROAD AVENUE SALOON

Bandit With Two Revolvers Robs Tony Silvera and a Customer, Securing $14—Santa Fe Hotel Burglarized in Daytime—Alarm of Robbers at Redlick's Stables.

One daring hold-up at the pistol's point; one daring robbery in a hotel in open daylight; one frustrated hold-up in a stable within a stone's throw of the court house. This is the record of crime in Fresno yesterday.

The most daring of the outrages occurred late last night when the saloon known as the Railroad Exchange, on the corner of Railroad avenue and Cherry avenue, was robbed openly by a man wearing a mask and carrying a revolver in each hand.

At about 10 o'clock the past proprietor, Tony Silvera, was behind his bar shaking dice with a customer named Frank Cook. The place was quiet, and none were in the bar or near the place at the time. As the two were engaged in their game a tall man quietly entered the barroom and stood quietly in a corner for a few seconds before he was noticed. Silvera glanced up and the startled look in his face caused Cook to also glance around. The two men faced two revolvers leveled at their heads with steady aim. They then saw that their visitor was masked with a piece of cloth over his brow and eyes. Small triangular holes were cut in the mask to permit him to barely see. A dark hat was pulled down over his face, and from underneath could be seen shaggy, curly hair. The fellow seemed to be about five feet nine or ten inches in height and weighed about 160 or 170 pounds. He was apparently of a muscular build and wore a corduroy cap, and blue overalls and jumper.

As the two startled men looked at the bandit, he said in a deep coarse voice, after a short pause, "Hold up your hands you Portuguese." At this, Silvera turned about and got out the money he had in the cash register, amounting to a trifle over $10. He handed this over to the robber, and as he did so made a quiet shift toward a revolver which lay at the end of the bar, but was much smaller. He weighed perhaps 160 pounds, and was about 5 feet 8 inches in height.

The taller man entered first, closely followed by the smaller. "Give me a drink of water," asked the first, brusquely.

"There's plenty of good ice water around over there," replied one of the waiters, pointing over to a cooler.

This did not seem to suit the visitors, and both then glanced about the place. In one corner of the stable was a partitioned place used as a bedroom for one of the stablemen who was laid up with a hurt leg. On the wall hung a silver watch, while on a small table near his bunk was some small silver change. After looking over the place, and apparently taking an inventory of the valuables in sight, the taller man remarked that he did not want ice water. The stableman then offered him some homemade. This, also, did not suit the men. Finally they said they wanted some ordinary hydrant water, and were directed to the place where it was. The men went over, and turned on the water, but did not drink any. They then left.

When the two had taken their departure, the stableman rang up police headquarters and Desk Officer Madden told them to be on their guard in case the men returned. He suggested, as a ruse, that if they came back to call on the police headquarters by number, and say, "George, what about that team?" This it was agreed would be a signal for the officer to go to the place at once.

It was only a short time before Officer Madden got a hurried message about the team as a signal to go to the stable. He rushed down with all possible speed, and then learned that the fellows had returned and went off hurriedly when they heard the stableman ringing up the telephone. They evidently suspected something, and made off, running with precipitate haste.

Hotel Robbed in Daylight.

The Santa Fe hotel was entered and robbed yesterday, some time during the day by unknown persons. A room at the rear of the house was rifled of a quantity of clothing, shoes, blankets, the grips containing small articles, a camera, telescope, and various other smaller articles. The goods were the property of Antonio Paulovich, who was not working at the time. The discovery was not noticed until his return. It was evident from the appearance of the room and the confusion in which the remaining articles were strewn about the floor, that the burglar had grabbed things right and left and made off somewhere. Whether the robbery was done by an inmate of the house and the stolen articles were packed away in some one's trunk, or the robber escaped with his loot out of the house, has not been determined. The burglary was only reported to police headquarters last night, and the details were meager.

While the three indications of criminal work may not be that of the same persons, enough has been shown within the past few hours to give evidence of the presence of a gang of crooks in the city. For many months past the place has been singularly free from crime of the sort, and hold-ups and open robberies have been hitherto almost unknown. The latest instances thrust upon the notice of the police show clearly enough that a batch of bad men have landed in the town, and it is reasonable to suppose that they hail from San Francisco where things are being made too warm to hold them.

during the present crusade against crime.

The sheriff's office and the police department are busy upon the cases, and hope to land the fugitives. But it seems to be the general opinion that the perpetrators of the Railroad avenue robbery have skipped out of town on a train, while the affair of Redlick's barn is not given unqualified belief by the chief of police and most of the officers.

REMAINS OF SUICIDE ARRIVE FROM COALINGA

Funeral Will Be Held When Word Is Received from Relatives of Mike Roche.

The remains of Mike Roche, the young fellow who shot himself after attempting to kill a woman in Coalinga on Tuesday night, were brought to this city last night and received at the depot by the dead wagon of Stephens & Dean. The body now lies in the morgue awaiting word from the relatives of the dead man. A man from Coalinga accompanied the corpse to this city, but left when he arrived in Fresno, saying that he would visit the undertaker's this morning and have instructions ready for the funeral arrangements.

The deceased was a strikingly handsome young man of about 25 years. In the center of his brow is a bullet hole, while another hole at the rear of his skull shows the egress of the fatal ball.

It is said that Roche has well-to-do relatives and was brought up with care in his boyhood, but drifted from the influence of a refined home three or four years ago. Lately he worked as a bartender, but was discharged lately because of his liaisons with women, and his dissolute character.

TRIENNIAL CONCLAVE OF KNIGHTS TEMPLAR

Fresno Commandery Makes Preparations for Trip.

The next triennial conclave to be held at Saratoga next August was the principal under discussion last night by the Fresno Commandery of Knights Templar. Sir Knight E. F. Bernhardt of the committee reported that quite a number of the order had already made application for sleeping car reservations. There was considerable discussion in reference to the character of souvenirs that should be adopted. The consensus of opinion was in favor of a Templar sword in a scabbard, similar to those given away at the last conclave at San Francisco two years ago, and which were greatly appreciated by the visitors and commented on extensively by the press. It was decided to add Sir Knight D. J. Woodward to the committee.

The question of a badge for the ladies who will accompany the delegates was taken up. Although no definite action was taken, it was generally conceded that a small gold Maltese cross pin made after the pattern adopted by the California commandery would be very appropriate.

CONTRADICT'S PAUL'S IDENTIFICATION OF GUN

Defense in Willie Helm Case Sprung Its Sensation Yesterday—Gunsmith from Hanford Declared He Repaired Weapon for Two Mexicans Four Years Ago—Attorney Ewing Accuses Prosecution of Concealing Testimony and Hinds Comes Back With a Charge of Manufacturing Evidence.

Just before noon yesterday the attorneys for Willie Helm sprung their promised sensation in the form of a witness to prove that the gun found on the scene of the murder could not be the gun identified by Frank A. Paul as having been in the possession of his family for the last ten years and stolen from his house shortly before the murder of last year. Indeed, Attorney Ewing for the defendant made a heated attack on the sheriff's and district attorney's office, declaring that they had known for months past of the existence of this witness, Charles A. Lash, and had not only failed to call him into the case, but had not intimidated the defense that he existed.

Lash was called to the stand about 11 o'clock, after the transcript of the testimony of Henry Probasco at the former trial had been read. Any idea that Lash had been brought in to tell the single story of being with her brothers early in the evening of the day of the murder, and Fred D. Parsons had told of seeing Elmer Helm in the Reserve saloon in the middle of the afternoon of the same day. Nothing different had been brought out from what had been presented at the trial of the older brother.

Lash is a man about 30 years of age, married, and is now running a bicycle, watch and gun repair shop on North J street. He was asked to identify the single barreled gun found on the scene of the murder, and did so at once, stating that in 1902 he was employed in the repair shop of a man named Sharp in Hanford, when he made repairs on the gun in question for a Mexican whom he afterward learned was named Adolph Burritt. He said that the trigger spring was defective, and that he substituted a brass spring for the old one, such a spring as was in the gun on exhibition. The gun was taken away after a few days, and then in the spring of last year he brought back to the shop because there was something wrong with the breech, so that the gun fell apart when a bullet was exploded in it.

On this second occasion, Burritt came with another man, known only to the witness as Santa Cruz. They wanted to do some hunting immediately, and so borrowed another shotgun, of which an entry was made in the books of the shop. The witness made the required repairs, put a charge tag against the weapon, and had no more memory of the affair until the time, shortly after the murder last fall, but before the accusation against the Helm boys, when he was questioned by officers, who showed him the gun now on exhibition, which he identified as the gun he had fixed for the Mexicans. The persons present on this occasion, he said, were Sheriff Buckner of King's county, an officer from Fresno, whom he afterwards recognized as Deputy Sheriff Pickett, Sharp, Burritt and himself. He had afterwards left Hanford, gone to San Jose, then came to Fresno last April and in May had set up for himself.

Some weeks ago, said the witness, he had talked about the identity of this gun to Hines, the grocer, who had discussed the matter with another man, who had reported it to Albert Helm. Helm had then come to him about the matter of testifying in court, and he had come up to the courthouse to see the gun, which he knew at once was the same he had seen in the possession of Deputy Sheriff Pickett and had repaired about four years ago.

Attorney Hinds made objections to the introduction of certain parts of this story, as having no proper foundation, when Attorney Ewing denounced the prosecuting officers in concealing the fact that they knew about this witness for months before the Elmer Helm trial, but had let him be condemned just the same. Attorney Hinds replied in as hot language. He said it was easy enough for the defense to dig up a new witness with incompetent testimony or worse, and then make an excited speech about it. The noon adjournment came before the examination of this witness was finished.

Hinds conducted the cross-examination. The cross-examination was brief.

The prosecution now secured an adjournment until this morning, in order to give time to subpoena rebutting witnesses from Hanford and Fowler. It was stated that, to contradict the testimony of Lash, all those present at the alleged first identification of the gun would be subpoenaed, as well as the father of Frank A. Paul, D. G. Paul of this city, who says that he bought the gun ten years ago and had it in his possession ever since until it was stolen last year.
